This is another podcast from one of the many podcasts that I like to listen to. This one is from the Jason Stapleton Program, definately worth a listen!

Sex, Pornography, & Our Education System w/ Emily Gaudreau

"This episode covers some very sensitive adult material, so it likely is not appropriate for your children. We love how engaged and responsive our audience is. And we really need your help today. Our guest on this episode has an important message. She needs to get it in front of as many people as possible. But it's a sensitive subject that threatens a lot of powerful money. So, of course, social media has been censoring her content. That's why we need you guys to be proactive about sharing this episode with as many people as you can. Emily Gaudreau was a successful Playboy photographer. Then she saw something that horrified her while she was in the middle of a shoot at the height of her career. She returned home and put away her camera for good. Today, Emily is one of the world's leading voices on the issue of kids and pornography. She has dedicated her life to teaching parents about sexual abuse prevention. And now she's raising the alarm about some of the dark things that are happening in our education system. You won't believe some of the stuff they're teaching kids. I mean, they're starting some pretty graphic sex-ed training with kids who are barely potty-trained! Pornography, pedophilia, and human trafficking are difficult subjects. We're glad that we have people like Emily who are willing to take them on and spread the word. Please help her do so."
