This is another podcast from one of the many podcasts that I like to listen to. This one is from the I Had to Say It podcast.

A Conversation with Josh from the Appleboys Podcast

I sat down with Josh, part of the Appleboys podcast and we had a nice little chat. We talked the service industry, high school, fitting in, football, electronics, and being yourself. It was a great talk and I hope you enjoy listening to it as much as I enjoyed having it. And if you are looking for a conversational podcast to add to your rotation I highly recommend the Appleboys, it's like being a fly on the wall with a bunch of buddies having a few drinks after work on a Friday afternoon.
