The next stimulus bill is open mockery from DC toward everyone who has suffered economically for the past year. The government media complex has gone out of their way to destroy people's lives, and then they expect to buy them off with half of a rent payment. As someone on Twitter said, "This is 'please don't burn down a post office' money." If you're listening to this show, I imagine that $600 makes no difference to your life. If it does, you need to get your ass in gear. Our world is changing rapidly. Today is the Great Conjunction. Jupiter and Saturn are as close together as they've been in almost 400 years. And it's been almost 800 years since it happened at night, making it visible to human eyes. Yet this particular occurrence is on a solstice. The Winter solstice is the shortest day of the year. So it's a significant astronomical event coinciding with an even more significant astronomical event. And it's happening during a significant time in world history. I don't know what all of that means for our lives. JP Morgan said, "Millionaires don't need astrology, but billionaires do." So perhaps there's something to it. Either way, don't be the person who sits around waiting for the planets to align to determine your fate. You get to determine your fate, with each action you take each day. Today, we're gonna talk about your "why." What is the higher purpose that motivates you? You have one, whether you've thought about it or not. If you haven't thought about it, it's time you start."
