I know it might sound crazy, but there are ways to provide college to everyone without compulsive taxation. North Carolina's Governor is trying to do just that. Today we'll talk through what it might look like.

Republicans passed their healthcare ammendment and it's all the media can talk about. I doubt it will pass the senate without serious amendment. Those changes will likely ensure it's demise when it gets back to the house.

Great show today. Let me know what you think.
