This is another podcast from one of the many podcasts that I like to listen to. This one is from the Jason Stapleton Program, definately worth a listen!

600: Ann Coulter, the Rights Version of Rachel Maddow

Ann Coulter is, by my account an uglier version of Rachel Maddow. (both inside and out)

She makes her living by coming up with the most offensive and shocking way to express a political opinion.

Not surprisingly she is also a HUGE Trump supporter. Or at least she was.

It turns out she's not happy we don't have a wall, or a decent budget or mass deportation. She's so upset over Trump's shortcomings she's considering pulling her support for the President.

I've never liked Ann. Even what I was a conservative I didn't like her. She represents the worst qualities in a human being and politics today.

But, because she cranks out controversial books as fast as anyone can read them (and I wonder how many people do) she continues to find her way onto the national stage.

We'd all be better off if people like Ann stuck with the other jobs, they're qualified to do (Walmart greeter, Stop sign holder on a road construction project, dog walker) rather than making life a little less tolerable by continuing to inject themselves into the political debate.

Also on the show, we've got an update on North Korea and a fascinating look at China, and it's plan for global domination!
