This is another podcast from one of the many podcasts that I like to listen to. This one is from the I Had to Say It podcast.

The Twitter Meltdown, People need to get over it.

We all probably spend more time on social media than we should. With everything going on right now with twitter so many people are having absolute fits over how Elon is running the company HE bought. Most of it comes off as petulant garbage and tantrums, but why? There are so many better ways to spend your time, why spend it on a platform you are unhappy with complaining about the platform? Honestly I have more thoughts on the matter than what made it into the episode, if you are interested or have thoughts of your own please feel free to reach out and share them, I would love the feedback.
