I love John Mauldin. He has a fantastic free newsletter every one of you should be reading.

You can get it here:

I've got an article from him I want to read to you about the massive amount of debt and promises America is going to have to address.

It's more evidence that we are living on borrowed time. We've been promised a future that cannot be and that scares me.

I'm afraid for my children and their future. What kind of life do they stand to have based on the greed of those living beyond their means today?

We'll also take a look at the Venezuela media coverage here in the US. It should come as no surprise that there is a propensity to ignore both the suffering and violence happening there and a desire to avoid blaming the problem on socialism.

Lastly, the business course I talked about yesterday is now open for registration. If you want to get in, here's the link:
