This is another podcast from one of the many podcasts that I like to listen to. This one is from the I Had to Say It podcast.

Yeah, yeah, I know it's late

So last week I forgot to hit record on the live stream, so I couldn't edit the audio until I could pull it off of YT, so I had to wait to publish. Then the outside world felt the need to make it's presence felt, and it got pushed out of my thoughts. But I remembered eventually, and that's what counts. I remembered too close to bedtime so you're getting the raw audio from the live stream, so if you never watch the streams, this is what they are like, slightly less polished, more gaps and pauses, but not that different from what you're used to. Things will be back to normal for the next episode.....
Probably
