This is another podcast from one of the many podcasts that I like to listen to. This one is from the I Had to Say It podcast.

Court Cases, Leaked Documents, and other distractions.

Ok so I had to take a week off. I was sick and has some personal stuff going on. I explain it in the first part of the episode. Basically this episode I am on a tear about how we are being manipulated by a group of people who aren't even trying to hide what they are doing anymore. They think that little of us. And someone leaked an opinion paper from the supreme court about RvW. I weigh in on that one as well.
