576: Thoughts on Americas Attack on Syria

Yesterday, the President of the United States took unilateral action to bomb a sovereign nation that had not attacked us or threatened our liberties.

In response, the media and Congress have moved swiftly to reinforce several key points that help to justify the president's actions. For the President to be safe from criticism, the media must ensure the narrative that Trump's actions were.

1. LEGAL
2. REASONABLE
3. NECESSARY

What I will do today is show you how the media, with the help of some slippery politicians, are accomplishing this.

Get ready; this is not going to be pretty.
